Detailed Action

Receipt is acknowledged of the Response filed 7/10/08.

The claim objections have been withdrawn. The applicant has amended the claimed language to overcome the objections.

The 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103(a) rejections have also been withdrawn. Applicant has amended the claim language so that the art fails to teach or suggest the present invention as set forth in amended claim 1.

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claim 22 must be renumbered claim 23. This renumbered claim 23 has been cancelled by the Applicant. Previously numbered claims 23 to 47 must be renumbered claims 24 to 48.

Thus renumbered claims 1-4, 7-8, 13, 15, 18, 20, 22, 35-47 are pending in this application. Renumbered claims 5-6, 9-12, 14, 16-17, 19, 21, 23-34 are cancelled. Applicant should refer to this claim numbering in all future correspondences.

Claim Objections

Renumbered claims 46-47 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nishikawa et al. (JP 07082225).

The instant claims are drawn to terephthalamide peptidomimetic compounds represented by formula (1) as depicted in claim 1.

Therefore this claim is fully met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-4, 7-8, 13, 15, 18, 20, 22, 35-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nishikawa et al. (JP 07082225).

The instant claims are drawn to terephthalamide peptidomimetic compounds represented by formula (1) as depicted in claim 1.

Nishikawa et al. teaches amino acid derivatives with the general formula 1, which have pharmaceutical application as inhibitors of metastasis (abstract). Nishikawa et al. also teaches the following species shown below:

Nishikawa et al. is deficient in that it does not exemplify alkoxy substituents on the benzene ring.

However, it would be prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention, to determine the appropriate chemical constituents from Nishikawa et al.'s genus structural limitations, including substituting an alkoxy group on the benzene ring, to arrive at Applicant's compounds. The prior art teaches the generic, while Applicant teaches the species. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make permutations of the variable groups within Nishikawa et al.'s genus structure, with the reasonable expectation that the compounds would be useful to treat metastasis. Absent any unusual and/or unexpected results, it is the Examiner's position that the teaching of the generic concept is obvious over the teaching of Applicant's species, because the same product is produced and the art recognizes the species as equivalent. The expected result would be the efficient production of terephthalamide peptidomimetic compounds for the pharmaceutical industry.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
